

2007 3rd Annual Arthropods Image Salon

To: All Faculty, Staff, and Students

Continuing with a “tradition” started two years ago, the Department of Entomology will again sponsor an Arthropods Image Salon contest. The contest aims to develop and raise the visibility of photo and creative talent in the form of a competition, following by a public exhibition showcasing the competition winners and participants. The deadline for submissions is close of business on Friday, December 1, 2006. All submissions will be available for viewing during the Department of Entomology Annual Meeting of Faculty, Staff, and Students in January 2007. The overall winner in each of four categories and the Best Overall Image will be announced during this meeting. The individual submitting the Best Overall Image will receive a check for $250. Please see the 2007 entry form and guidelines for further details.